

University of Plymouth, UK
&
Centre for Maritime Logistics, Economics and Finance (CEMLEF)

Professor Jingjing Xu

Deputy Director, CEMLEF

Jingjing.xu@plymouth.ac.uk

UoP

- University of Plymouth (UoP) is one of the largest universities in the UK - 30,000 students and 3,000 staff
- The University has a very long maritime tradition and marine and maritime research is the top priority strategic area in the University
- Our world-class pedigree in marine and maritime teaching and research has received Royal recognition and the University was awarded the Queen's Anniversary Prize for Higher and Further Education in early 2012.

CEMLEF Expertise

- CEMLEF: the centre that focuses on maritime research within the University
- Maritime law and policy pertaining to marine pollution, maritime safety and security;
- Legal regimes in relation to marine renewable energy development;
- Maritime logistics and supply chain management;
- Shipping and port policy and management

CEMLEF is currently involved in several EU projects

- Modernisation of Vessels for Inland Waterway Freight Transport (Move IT!)
 - Policy-oriented Marine Environmental Research in the Southern European Seas (PERSEUS)
 - Streamlining of Offshore Wave Farms Impact Assessment (SOWFIA)
 - Marine Energy in Far Peripheral & Island Communities (MERIFIC)
 - Hybrid Freight Sailing : Sustainable Approaches and Innovative Liaisons (SAIL)
-

Topics We Are Interested In

- SST.2013.1-2. Towards the zero emission ship
- SST.2013.4-2. Inspection capabilities for enhanced ship safety
- OCEAN 2013.3. Innovative antifouling materials for maritime applications
- OCEAN 2013.4. Innovative transport and deployment systems for the offshore wind energy sector

Thanks

Prof. Jingjing Xu

Jingjing.xu@plymouth.ac.uk

University of Plymouth

<http://www.plymouth.ac.uk/>
